The house had been aroused by burglar. Mr. Jones saw a man with a mask going through the pockets of his pantalogus, and as quick as thought he shot at him, the intruder making good his escape.

"Well, he didn't get anything." said she, complacently. "How do you know?" "Oh, I tried 'em myself before we

FLORIDA BRIEFS.

ITEMS OF INTEREST GATHERED AT RANDOM.

News from all Parts of the State Summarized.

The Monthly Bulletin, issued under the auspices of the state department of agriculture, will in future publish the official reports, prognostications, etc., of the United States weather bureau for Florida.

Advices received at Tallahasses from Kentucky state that seventy-two tobacco growers will soon leave for that city. They are coming to see what inducements are offered by Leon county in the way of tobacco growing.

In accordance with an act passed at the late session of the legislature, Governor Mitchell has executed and forwarded to Secretary Carlisle a deed transferring to the United States, for light house purposes, Bowditch point, on Estero Island, near Punta Rassa, at the mouth of the Calcosahatchie

The interior department at Washington has discovered that a portion of the lands in the Gainesville land district that were reserved for paval purposes in 1885 had been previously granted to the state of Florida under the Swamp Land Act of 1850. Such lands were, therefore, never really a naval reserve, and have not been restored to the public domain by the restoration of the naval reservations located there. They still belong to the

John K. McDonald, as receiver of the First National bank of Ocala, has instituted suit against E. W. Agnew. Jr., E. W. Agnew, Sr., B. A. Withers, R. D. Thompson, W. M. Etheridge and Isaac Stevens, directors of the bank. Notices of the suit has been filed in the office of the clerk of the United States court for Southern district of Florida, and the suit will be tried at the December term of the

There has been filed in the clerk's office of the United States court at Jacksonville notice of suit by the United States vs. the Plant Steamship Mascotte, which plies between Tampa, Key West and Havana, for neglect and refusing to deliver to the collector of customs, at Key West, a separate list of Chinese passengers brought from Havana and landed at Key West from January 7, 1893, to April 21, 1894. Not long since a fruit growers association was organized at Chipley. Mr. S. M. Robertson was elected president and L. Wiselogel and A. G. Chandlee were elected as foreman and assistant foreman of work. They have procured the use of Dekel & Daniels' large warehouse as a packing house. They get their crate boards in car-load lots and have several men at work building crates, and a host of boys wrapping and packing the fruit (mostly pears), getting them ready for shipment. They average nearly a thousand crates per day.

Florida for Children.

Dr. Maxwell has published a communication showing the healthfulness of Florida's summer climate for children. The United States census of 1890 sustains Dr. Maxwell's position, A comparison of eight states of nearly equal population shows that in 1890 the death rate of Florida from scarlet fever, measles, whooping cough, diphtheria and croup was vastly lower than that of any of these states. It is proportionately lower than that of any other state in the union. But we will let the table speak	ior itse	II:

		Deaths
Population.	Deaths.	pr 10 000
New Hampshire876 530	399	11
Vermont	334	10
Rhode Island 345,506	539	15
South Dakota 328,808	379	11
Colorado419,198	056	13
Oregon	221	7
Washington 349,390	313	9
Florida	182	4 1-

Thus it is seen that of these states only in Oregon is the death rate from diseases incident to childhood less than twice as great as in Florida, and there it is 75 per cent. greater. In Washington the rate is just twice as is about two and a third times as high, in Colorado nearly three times as high, and in Rhode Island more than three times as high as in Florida. Florida is a great resort for conknown our state will be a greater resort for suffering children.

The Canning Industry. The Times-Union remarks: The fruit growers of West Florida have organized. The orange-growers of the peninsula attempted to organize last year. If organization could be effected the fruit business of the state would prosper. It would not be alone in the tor estate, and $10,000 by parties in securing of cheaper transportation rates that organized effort would add to the prosperity of the fruit-growers. Something could be accomplished in this line, but much could also be accomplished in other lines. Freight charges are so high that it would be well for the fruit-growers of Florida to provide for the needs of the state for the whole year, and not sim-

This emphasizes the need of canning factories that would supply the home market with canned fruits, and not necessitate the shipping of so large a part of the crop to distant markets. It may be said that the fruit growers have not the capital to build canning factories. It takes very little to set such enterprises on foot, but even admitting that this small amount could not be made up by the growers, they could secure it from others much easier if they were organized and working together.

SEA ISLAND COTTON.

The Annual Midsummer Crop Report of Dutton & Co.

H. F. Dutton & Co., of Gainesville, have issued their fourteenth annual midsummer report on the condition of the Sea Island cotton crop. Messrs. Dutton & Co. are large cotton factors. and have made a specialty of these reports, which have become noted for their accuracy. Thereport as regards Florida is as follows:

The counties of Putnam, Clay, Duval, Hillsboro and Sumter, many years ago, were large produces of Sea Island cotton. The orange and truck industries gradually absorbed all interest until last spring, when the intense cold froze out this line to a great extent. and the farmers more or less again turned their attention to cotton growing. The area in cotton in these counties is at present quite small, but the crop is in a splendid condition, mostly grown from seed fresh from the islands.

The counties of Jefferson, Jackson, Holmes and Gadsden are experimenting to quite an extent in the cotton growing industry, importing seed mostly from the Sea Islands. The cotton from these counties last year was of good quality, and the acreage planted this year is somewhat more extensive than last. The condition of the plant. up to July 10, was good, the weather being favorable and the cultivation fairly good in all the counties mentioned. The counties of Alachus, Bradford, Columbia, Hamilton, Levy, Madison and Marion have from 10 to 15 per cent more acreage than last year, with an increase of 10 per cent more seed imported from the islands, with the exception of Alachua and Marion. which will produce a greater percentage than that mentioned, having a Prospectors are being driven in from succeeded in "marrying her off." ted seed. The plant is from two to three weeks late, but in a good state Forces are equipped ready for a of cultivation up to July 10; weather favorable and prospects of a good crop better than ever before.

Baker, Lafayette, Nassan and Suwannee counties have less acreage and less imported seed, but as a whole the cultivation is reported good and prospects fairly good for a good crop up to

SUED THE JUDGE.

An Unprecedented Case Before the Court at Jacksonville.

Who ever heard of a man suing a judge on the bench for damages resulting from a judicial order. Yet that is what Joseph W. Wood, of Jacksonville, is doing, and Judge Call is the judge being sued. Wood wants $25,-000 damages for being required to give bond to guarantee his remaining within the jurisdiction of the court. The suit is also against Sheriff T. B. Simpkins, of Jefferson county, for serving the writ, and against W. P. Ward, complainant's wife's attorney, for applying the writ.

The lawyers have discussed it and laughed over it. They say the case has no precedent that they know of. They also say that Wood and his attorney in the suit are both liable for contempt of court.

A week or two ago Wood's wife, who is suing for divorce, applied to Judge Call, in the absence of the judge of the Second circuit, for an order, through her attorney, W. P. Ward, for a writ to prevent Wood from leaving the state and the jurisdiction of the court. The application was granted by Judge Call and the writ was placed in the hands of Sheriff Simkins for service. Sheriff Simkins arrested Wood, who was compelled to furnish bond, guaranteeing his stay within the jurisdiction of the court. Wood claims that he has been damaged to the amount of $25,000.

TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION.

The J. M. & P. Railway and Naviga tion Co.'s Stock and Franchises.

The Jacksonville, Mayport and Pab lo Railway and Navigatiou Company's rolling stock and franchises will be sold at public outcry, at Jacksonville, on Monday, September 2d. The sale will be made under an order made by Judge Call, of the circuit court, upon the petition of George F. Broughton, who brought suit against the railroad for the navment of a claim for labor and material furnished, which amounts to about $1,000. The order of the court instructs R. S. Cockrell, special master, to sell the property to the high as in Florida. The bonds mentioned above amount to $155,000. Seventy-five thousand dollars worth of them were set aside for the payment of labor items, $3,000 is held by the As-Kentucky. The National bank of the state of Florida also holds $50,000 worth of the bonds.

Out of this quantity at least half is already contracted for, and 10,000 tons is not available for shipment in consequence either of its distance from shipping points or from its quality; the amount of rock at present availa ble does not, therefore, exceed 30,000 tons, and the greater part of this is held by the Associated Company, and will not be effered under the present unnatural condition of prices. On the other hand it is doubtless true that large sales have been made which have not so far been covered by purchases in Florida. The meeting seemed to think that this condition of affairs ought to be made known, and they be-

INDIANS AROUSED.

They are Making it Warm for Set tlers and Prospectors.

The first advices of an authentic nature from the scene of the indian troubles in the Jackson Hole region reached Governor Richards, of Wvoming. Tuesday in the shape of telegrams sent by courier from Marysvale. Wyo., to Market Lake, Idaho, from Adjutant General Stitzer, of the governor's staff, who was sent into the region to investigate the troubles between the Indians and the whites. One message reports Indians in force at the junction of Granite creek and Fall river. All passes available by horses are guarded by Indians. ing the various mountain march, and everybody is armed."

Another message says that many Indians from Fort Hall are leaving to join those in the mountains. Indians from other reservations are reported joining them. Letters and couriers have been sent out by the Jackson Hole settlers asking for aid, and with those who have responded say they will go into the mountains to meet the Indians at once. Settlers have given up all hopes of saving crops and are preparing to take all women and children out of the region.' Governor Mitchell states that no movement of state troops into the Jackson Hole country will be ordered until further information is received. He has sent word to General Stitzer to report as fully as possible the situation, particularly as to the success being met with by the Indian police in inducing the Bannocks, the only known offenders among the Indians, to return to their reservation.

MULTI-MURDERER

EVIDENCE IS ACCUMULATING AGAINST THE MAN HOLMES.

Bones of Human Skeletons Found Hidden in His House.

A Chicago special says: Not so sensational a find as that of Wednesday was made by the men digging in the basement of the Holmes building Thursday, but it was one which may go much farther towards securing the conviction of the murdarer. One of the workmen found in a pile of rubbish a letter signed "H. H. Howard," and Holmes and one of the commonest of tion: the lot. This letter is in his wellknown handwriting and is addressed to an occupant of the building whom the detective who took possession of the letter before the reporters could get hold of it refused to name. It is believed, however, that the letter is to C. E. Davis, the jeweler who occupies the building with Druggist Robinson.

The letter inquires particularly as to the doing of Janitor Quinlan, and asks at any time, quite soft, bland and where he now is. It then goes on in a iocular manner to discuss the fate of the Williams girls, and asks of the recipient whether he has seen them or their ghosts about the building. Special inquiry is made as to the partitions in the house, and in conclusion the writer expresses the belief that he will depelogisticated air is exhaled from not have to stay in jail much longer. It was at first reported that two letters had been found, but Detective Norton, who has charge of the material found in the cellar, denies that this is so. He declares that the two supposed letters were only parts of the same letter. A new accusation now rests against Holmes that he made away with Miss Cigrands, with whom he lived in the house at Sixty-third and Wallace streets just before he had the Williams girls there. The neighbors remember little of the girl, not even her first name. She was a stately looking blond, about twenty-five years of age, and lived with Holmes something less than six months. When she went away Holmes told Jeweler Davis, as the letter claims, that he had larger acreage and more fresh import- the mountains and pickets are guard- It will be remembered that this is very much like what he told cor cerning the disappearance of Mrs. Connor. He said at the time that he had married her off in Galifornia. Miss Cigrand came to Chicago from Indiana. She associated but little with the neighbors and even the other inmates of the building were incomplete ignorance concerning her habits. Holmes was not often seen with her and on these occasions he kept aloof from his acquaintances and introduced her to no one. Mrs. W. L. Doyle, of 747 Sixtythird street, knows more about this girl than anybody else, it is believed, but the Central station officers will no > permit her to talk about the case. The building in which Holmes' Chicago crimes were probably concected and accomplished will not be pulled down. P. R. Chandler, a broker who holds a mortgage on it for $12,000 advanced to Holmes with which to build, was told by the building inspectors that all that was necessary was to improve the upper portion. This will be done and an order of foreclosure has already been secured from the court and an order will be asked for allowing the improvements to be put on. The property is now worth $40,000. Besides > terest and taxes due on it. A few more bones were found Thurs day in the same hole in which those were taken the day before. They were the vertebrae and a portion of a human shoulder blade. The force of men has been doubled, and the work is progressing much faster.

> The belief is gaining ground that Holmes' wife, who lives at the suburb of Williamette, knows more of the crimes of her husband than she cares to tell. It is probable that she will be put in the sweat box.

The robbers were entirely familiar with the train. It is thought that employes of the railroad company or of the express company are implicated, either as principals or confederates. It was undoubtedly known to the bandits that an unusually large sum was in the exproce cofe at the time The amount obtained is said to be $8,000, but it is believed that a much larger sum was taken. No attempt was made to molest passengers, none of whom knew anything of the occurrence. When the thieves secured the contents of the safe they rode quietly away.
